

Make radio with Vermont Public

in new audio storytelling, radio journalism, and podcasting classes and internships

Learn the art of telling true stories in sound

Make professional radio stories and narrative podcasts while building your skills in multimedia storytelling, journalistic interviewing, audio recording, sound mixing, script writing, and speaking on-air in new classes for UVM students. No experience needed. All majors welcome.

Learn more and listen to examples of what you'll create.

FTS 2605 A: Intro to Audio Storytelling

Produce creative nonfiction audio stories.

CAS 3922 C: Audio Journalism with Vermont Public

Produce radio news stories for broadcast on Vermont Public.

CAS 2991 B: Vermont Public Advanced Internship

Join Brave Little State and Vermont Edition as a PAID producer. Open to two students by application.

Want more journalism internship opportunities like these?

Check out the Community News Service where UVM students report for local news outlets.

University of Vermont

College of Arts and Sciences
Community News Service

College of Arts and Sciences

Vermont Public

go.uvm.edu/vp-uvm